COLORADO LEGISLATURE ENACTS INDUSTRIAL AND COMPEN-SATION LAWS.

COMMISSION WILL REPRESENT STATE IN MATTERS RELATING TO CAPITAL AND LABOR.

Denver.-Industrial legislation that Governor Carlson believes will end conflict between capital and labor, the civil service act, the capitol board levy, the Sabin bills, Court of Appeals bill and the creation of the "special committee on public welfare," to in vestigate Denver and Colorado's business, legislative, political and social allments, with $25,000 included in the ong appropriation for that purpose held the attention of the Senate and House Friday.

The essential provisions of the in dustrial commission and workmen's compensation' acts sent to Governor 'arlson are:

An Industrial Commission of three members, appointed by the governor for terms of two, four and six years, whose duties it shall be to administer the compensation law and to represent the state in relation to all matters concerning industry. . Each commissioner to receive $4,000 salary, no more than two of them being of the same politi-

One commissioner to represent capital and one labor, the third representing no particular side of industry. Commission may appoint nonpaid advisory board to work with it.

Commission required to enforce all laws governing industry and can make investigations and issue orders for the improvement of safety conditions in any place of business in the state. It is supposed to investigate conditions of unemployment and do all in its power to bring together the employer and persons seeking employ ment.

The most important duty of the commission is in relation to threatened industrial strife. The commission is vested with so-called Canadian arbitration power. No strike can be called and no lockout effected until the commission first has had an opportunity to thoroughly investigate and attempt to adjust the differences between the employer and his em-

The compensation law provides for stipulated rates of compensation to be paid employés who are injured while in the service of the employer and to his dependents in case of death. All farm and ranch labor and priare exempted from the provisions of the act.

Four forms of insuring for compensation are left open to the employerinsurance in the state compensation insurance fund, which is created by the new law; stock company insurance, mutual insurance or the carrying by the employer of his own risk, on filing of a bond with the Industrial Commission to guarantee compensation payments if the necessity arises.

for insurance in the state fund. Disability indemnity to be paid under the law is based on the average weekly wages of employé, but cannot exceed $8 per week. In case of death the maximum amount to be paid is $2,500. The compensation law applies to the state and its employés, to every county, city, town and other separate taxing unit in the state.

Magistrate Jailed on Murder Charge Santa Rosa, N. M .- Justice of the Peace Luis Aguilar of Anton Chico precinct was arrested here and charged with the murder of John Larkin at Vaughn last summer.
